Write-Up Instructions

Open a new Word document and answer the following questions.
Make sure you include ALL the questions AND answers in your write-up.

1. How many countries were there for each of the continents? Make a table that looks like the one below to answer this question. (Click "Insert" and then click "Table")

Continent	Number of Countries
Africa
Asia
Europe

2. Which continent had the most countries in our data set?

3. What was the mean population size for all the countries?

4. What was the mean land size for all the countries?

   Copy and paste your bar graph into your Word document.

5. Which country has the largest population?

6. Which country has the second largest population?

7. Why do these two countries have such a large population? You'll have to do some research for this one! And there are multiple reasons…not just one.

8. Which countries, if any, had a declining population size? You'll have to research this question too.

9. Why do these countries have a declining population size?

   Copy and paste your scatter plot into your Word document.

10. Describe the trend between the land size and population size based on your scatter plot. Is it positive or negative?

11. Does the trend that you see in your scatter plot match what you would expect? HINT: As land size goes up, what would you expect to happen to population size?
